Evan says: “I use the CBD shampoo and conditioner almost every day because I’m telling myself the lie that I’m actually feeling something.”

Clearly, I need to educate my husband on how CBD works. You’re don’t necessarily “feel” anything with CBD beauty products like this. Instead, the CBD inside serves to infuse hair with all 21 known amino acids (the building blocks of protein — what your hair is made of). Because of this, CBD hair care products, like this shampoo and conditioner from Emera, are known for making hair longer and stronger. The best part? They’re so softening; after an Emera wash day, we can’t stop running our fingers through each others’ hair.
